Transition from ISO Guide 34 to ISO 17034

To whom it concern,

Since September 2018 the LGC Labor GmbH is a reference material producer accredited to ISO 17034. Before we were accredited according to ISO Guide 34. The uninterrupted accreditation can be confirmed by our accreditation number D-RM-19883-00.

In November 2019 the official transition period from ISO Guide 34 to ISO 17034 ended. This period was only relevant for the reference material producer. They had time until November 2019 to renew their accreditation. Already released products are not affected. Every product released under ISO Guide 34 is still valid until its expiry date. As ISO Guide 34 is the direct predecessor to ISO 17034 the products can be treated as equal to ISO 17034 accredited products as described in ISO 17025 chapter 6.4.1.

To our best knowledge, there is no official document by the ILAC or other organizations, which prevent the use of ISO Guide 34 accredited products.

Best regards,

Martin Beck
